

Reflections

on the Arts

By CAROL CRAIN

LOIS HULL OF CANYON will once again grace the Pioneer Amphitheatre stage Monday and Tuesday of next week as Aunt Anna in the musical drama "TEXAS".

Lois will perform the role due to the brief absence of Jane Bivins Lipscomb.

The Canyonite performed the role last season for the first time. Her college credits were obtained from numerous choir and drama productions at the University of Texas, where she received her BA degree.

The former University Study Club president has been a faithful worker and contributor to the Heritage Foundation since its birth.

Lois' late husband Truett was a respected attorney here before his death.

Mrs. Hull who comes from one of the oldest Pioneer families in San Antonio has four children and is a member of the Junior League of Amarillo.

I am sure many of her friends will want to obtain tickets to see her on stage once more.

"TEXAS" ORIGINALS WILL BE on the Branding Iron Theatre Stage next Sunday at 8 p.m.

Admission to the evening of entertainment is free, though contributions to the "TEXAS" scholarship fund will be accepted.

Last year's scholarship winners, Georgia Clinton and Harrell Floyd, are among this year's "TEXAS" leads.

More on the acts next week—but mark your calendar now.

BOARD MEMBERS FOR THE FRIENDS OF Fine Arts were named this week after a tally of mailed ballots and approval of the executive board.

Five new area board members include Mrs. Allen Cansler of Hereford, L. "Pete" Gilvin of Amarillo, Mrs. John McCormick of Dumas, Mrs. R. A. Neblett of Canyon, and Mrs. C. Richard Wagner of Amarillo.

Re-elected to the board were Hank Brown of Amarillo, George Cree, Jr. of Pampa, Mrs. R. W. Curry of Pampa, Mrs. Charles Lenau of Muleshoe, Max Motley of Amarillo, Dr. Hal Riddle of Amarillo, and Mrs. C. D. Wofford of Plainview.

Max Motley was re-elected as chairman for the next term, Mrs. Wofford will serve as vice chairman, with Mrs. Lenau as secretary.

H.R. Fulton, Jr. of Canyon and Aubrey Steele of Pampa are members-at-large.

Meandering with Margo String Of Clothes Strings Her Out

By MARGO FIELDS

Housekeeping is not on my list of favorites as a pastime, and with a houseful of people it becomes something of a necessity rather than something for fun.

Take the daily chore of just washing clothes.

By the time you walk through the house gathering socks from under the sofa, a pair of jeans from the hallway, dirty towels (only four) from the bedroom floor, sheets from all the beds, dish towels under the table, and just dirty odds and ends from the logical dark places like the closets and the dresser—well you have just started your routine.

You are worn out after this trek through the rooms, because after the first room the level of your voice has reached a peak that some objective viewers might call a scream (my husband mentions hysteria). The more you collect in out-of-the-way places the more frustrated you become, and when you finally reach the dirty clothes hamper and find it empty, but your basket full, that seems to be the limit.

But no, more is to come.

You spread out all this stuff in separate piles as you attempt to group and when you turn back around someone has piled an

COUNCIL met this week and viewed an ecology film "Texas, Handle with Care" and discussed pertinent matters.

The formal opening of the Amarillo Art Center will be held in late September.

The council will not meet in August, but will meet September 27th and chairmen should have firm recommendations for the upcoming year's activities.

THE HOME IN THE MALL is continuing their production of the melodrama "The Drunkard". Its a fun-for-all, I understand. Eats are available.

Minority Problem A Majority Problem

By CARROLL WILSON

West Texas State University may have its problems in the area of equal employment.

A team from the Office of Civil Rights in Dallas confirmed that last week.

As in usual government fashion, the team came up with a list of solutions—called "affirmative actions"—which the university must take to make their ratio of women, blacks and other minority groups more equal.

The fact is that the school knew it had a problem long ago. And, the problem is not unique just to West Texas State. It is shared by many other universities all over the country.

Three years ago, Dr. Ray Malzahn, WTSU vice president for academic affairs, told me the university was making every effort—in fact more effort by far than they make for other than minorities—to recruit minority faculty members.

The situation as he explained it to me was an impossible one.

The manpower pool of minority members who can meet the strict qualifications and education levels required by universities is very, very small.

Consequently, as you would think logical, those few minority members who have the qualifications are able to draw high salaries. And, the only schools which can afford to pay those high salaries are schools which have the money to pay high salaries. WT isn't one of those schools.

John H. Bunzel, president of California State University at San Jose, puts it more eloquently in a recent article he wrote for the Wall Street Journal.

Bunzel asks "...are colleges and universities being encouraged to introduce into the appointment process non-academic criteria such as race and sex?"

He says that as a society we need to remove many injustices to the disadvantaged and minorities.

But, he says "colleges and universities must not adopt unjust or undemocratic means to achieve laudable goals."

"It is one thing to enable those who have been unfairly disadvantaged to compete fairly and fully and this we must do," he says. "It is something else again to do away with competition altogether or to provide the real or alleged victims of discrimination with redress by discriminating against others."

"If we set aside a white candidate who is more qualified than a black or brown competitor because he is white, we will be discriminating according to race. Once that process gets legitimated there is no stopping it."

Bunzel says a university should not make faculty appointments the way the Democratic Party chooses convention delegates.

"A basic error of HEW's affirmative action is in applying remedies perhaps suitable for conditions in the auto or construction industry, when in reality the situation in the academic world is significantly different," he says. "It may well be that a large pool of qualified or easily qualified minority manpower exists for business firms and labor unions and that, either through intentional or unintentional discrimination, minority members are not being hired. But this does not describe the special features and problems of faculty recruitment in American universities. Such a pool does not presently exist, nor is rapid 'on-the-job' training possible in the universities in the same way it is in industry."

This, then, is the crux of Bunzel's article and the crux of the problem at WTSU.

It's one not easily solved. But, I'm fairly sure it's a problem which will not be solved by the indiscriminate hiring of minorities simply because they are in the minority.

If you think the Women's Equity Action League (WEAL), which filed a complaint against WTSU for discrimination against women, caused the university a lot of trouble, you should see what WEAL is doing in Dallas.

WEAL has turned Dallas' city employees upside down.

Dallas is hiring women policemen and firemen, as a result of WEAL wailing. The women have attacked hiring practices for garbage collectors. Maternity leave policies have been revised.

This area may have got off lightly with WEAL attacking only WTSU.

Our World

Fellowship Offers A Fulfilling Life

By ANN BROWN

Man is so constituted that he cannot live without a sense of meaning. The primary channels through which the emotionally healthy man finds meaning in life are his family, his church, and his work.

The greatest satisfaction comes through being conscious partners with God in creation. The normal man is proud of his children, enjoys their fellowship, and wants to provide for them.

Recent data from the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) indicate that "Marriage on the Rocks" is more than just the title of an old movie.

The NCHS reports the national divorce-marriage ratio has reached an all-time high of 455 divorces per 1,000 marriages. In 14 states the ratio is above 500 divorces per 1,000 marriages.

This tragic statistic means that approximately half of the young people being married in the United States today will eventually be divorced. Divorce, even when justified, is always a tragedy.

Love does not consist in a husband and wife gazing at each other, but in looking out together in the same direction. Human energy like electricity is wasted if not harnessed.

Anything constructive requires discipline. What athlete ever succeeded without self discipline?

Can a mathematical problem be solved, or a scientific experiment succeed without adherence to the rules?

Good marriages and happy homes do not just happen. They are the result of much patient service, sacrifice, and routine performance of duty.

Not everyone in this world will find happiness. But duty well done is the best substitute available.

In recent years, a number of popular public figures have attempted to glamorize "free love," "open marriage," and just plain "shacking up."

But apparently those couples have experienced the same difficulties as the people who stay with the old-fashioned institution of marriage, and they seem to have missed most of the benefits holy matrimony brings. It could be that God's plan for the home is best after all (Rom. 7:2-3).

If one cannot achieve an ideal home situation, however, there is still the church. But if all the church has to offer is a worldly emphasis on respectability, beautiful buildings, and excellent ecclesiastical staff, and a conventional religion with the redemptive power gone, few people will find meaning there.

The concept of clergy and laity cannot be found in the Bible. When the veil of the Temple was rent in twain (Matt. 27:50-51), every believer became a priest.

First century Christians all seemed to have been preachers. And good men still share what they prize.

But the modern church has become a mission field. The majority of Americans belong to some church. But how many of them have been born again (John 3:3).

The unregenerated church member will find little joy at church; the indifferent one finds even less. But if home and church fail, one still has his work.

Many modern jobs are not too difficult to do, but they lack creativity, and they are too easy to generate pride and self respect. Any job that does not require application, and inspire appreciation, is not likely to bring much satisfaction.

It is the instinctive joy in creation and obvious accomplishment that makes physicians and farmers happier in their work than most other men. They live longer, are healthier, and fewer of their number tend to wish they had chosen different professions than do men in other areas.

But not all men can be physicians or farmers. Much of the essential work in the world is dull and routine.

A man can function quite well, however, if one life channel fails him. He can survive if two are clogged. But if all three channels become fouled, life grows meaningless, and may become unendurable.

Dr. D. Elton Trueblood, the great Quaker preacher, said, "Hell means separation from God. Heaven means fellowship with God."

And the nearest man ever comes to heaven on earth is fellowship with others whom he admires and respects—whether it is in the home, at church, or at work.

Seminar Set At WTSU

A special seminar on principles of income property appraising opens Monday (July 31) at West Texas State University with appraisers from across the country registered.

West Texas State was only one of seven universities in the nation selected by the Society of Real Estate Appraisers, headquartered in Chicago, to conduct the 12-day seminar this year.

"We expect about 50 persons for the seminar," said Dr. Zeke Marchant, head of the business administration department of the WTSU School of Business. The department will co-sponsor the seminar with the SREA and its Amarillo chapter.

"This is an outstanding turnout considering the high cost of attending the seminar," he said. The SREA set the registration fee at $125.

The seminar will be conducted by D. A. Lomax of Albuquerque, N.M., and Lewis C. Garber of Nashville, Tenn. Both are MAI members of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers (AIREA) and are designated Senior Real Estate Analysts.

Lomax, a graduate of the University of Texas, is District 7 governor of the SREA and served seven terms as vice governor. He also was a vice president and director of Chapter 39 of the AIREA.

bill later, however.

"As a co-sponsor of the bill, I did vote in favor of final passage rather than jeopardize other benefits which will provide stability for our rural economy," he said.

Even with their disagreement over the bill, the two congressmen are enthusiastic about the measure.

"Enactment of this bill is going to mean more jobs, more opportunity and improved local services for Northwest Texas," Purcell said. "For the first time we have a comprehensive plan of rural economic development, one that marks the beginning of a new era for non-metropolitan USA."

Price said he is pleased the bill includes provisions of legislation he introduced last year to increase the size of farm operating loans from $35,000 to $50,000 and to convert farm operating and farm ownership loans from an appropriated funding to an insured loan basis.

The bill authorizes grants and loans to small towns and rural areas through the FHA.

stock market to an official dip point with permit.

"5. Cattle moving to an official dip point

"6. Cattle officially dipped within the past seven days, provided accompanied by a dip certificate

"7. Cattle from outside the quarantine area moving through the quarantine area with no stop-overs

"8. Cattle moving (same owner) from one premises to another premises within the quarantine area

"9. Cattle from outside the quarantine area moving into the quarantine area for grazing."

The restriction states that undipped animals leaving the quarantine area must be accompanied by an official movement certificate allowing movement to an official dip point for official dipping at destination, except animals moving directly to slaughter.

"The high risk of creating a continuing source of infection makes it necessary that any undipped cattle from a scabies quarantined area that move through a livestock market outside the quarantined area be dipped at the livestock market together with all other cattle at the livestock market, except animals consigned from the sale directly to slaughter prior to release to the country," the order states.

Brazzil and Young said the new order eliminates the need for official inspection of animals before movement, since dipping is required for all animals except those listed in the above categories.

School Board To Meet Tuesday

Canyon School Board members will discuss the possibility of building additional dressing rooms for use at Canyon High School during a meeting at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The board is also expected to discuss school dress policies for students and school policy for married students.

The possibility of constructing more locker room space for the high school was raised in mid-July when acting board president Tom Keeling complained of overcrowding in the rooms. He asked at that time whether plans have been prepared to relieve the problem.

School Supt. Jerry Jacobs showed board members plans drawn up several years ago which allow for expansion of the dressing rooms as well as the rest of the high school.

On the agenda for discussion Tuesday night is the possibility of asking school architects to draw up plans and make cost recommendations for the dressing room addition.

Also on the agenda for Tuesday will be discussion of student dress policy.

Board members are also expected to discuss the possibility of changing the schools' married student policy to allow them to participate in extra-curricular activities.

Board members are expected to eye a proposed athletic budget for the schools for next year.

A $32,000 athletic budget was given the board at their last meeting simply for review. The budget includes a projected $13,000 expenditure on high school football.

Discussion is expected Tuesday on the schools' insurance program.

Industrial Review

A garage is only as good as the mechanics that work there. And Carl Crow at Carl's Garage in Canyon has made certain his garage has trained, experienced and capable mechanics.

The three men who work with Carl have a total of 31 years in the auto and industrial mechanical business.

Calvin Floyd, 42, has some 19 years as a mechanic and has been with Carl for more than a year. He began work in the mechanic business in Arnett, Okla. in 1953 and from there he moved to Friona, where he specialized in industrial engines.

During his years in this business he has attended schools in air conditioning, automatic transmissions, carburetors and alternators.

He and his wife Dorothy have three children and reside at 506 Holman Lane in Canyon.

Bob Childers has been a mechanic for five years and has been with Carl for a year. He graduated from high school in Canyon and is an expert in all areas of car repair.

He and his wife Carol have one child and live at 206 14th Street. David Ehly, the youngest of the men who work for Carl, is 25 and has been involved with mechanics for six years. Following graduation from high school he entered the Army and has been with Carl's Garage for four months.

He and his wife Yvonne and one child live at 1600 7th Ave. "My men can do everything to a car or industrial engine," Carl assures. "And we will give complete service to our customers."

Carl's Garage in Canyon is the place to take your car for its summer tuneup—don't stop on the way, drop by and let the experience of Carl's mechanics pay off for you.

gaining popularity with people, but also it is receiving good usage from birds.

Ferguson said there was lots of winter use by the birds, and pheasants and doves are increasing, especially in the south end, where there is less public use.

Having recently finished a dove banding project, Ferguson said Buffalo Lake had one of the highest dove nesting rates in the High Plains.

He also mentioned that many bob-white and blue quails are making Buffalo Lake their home, while "roadrunners show off for the picnickers."

A mule deer herd of about 14 are living in the refuge, and park rangers have spied at least one set of twins and a single young deer.

Conforming to recent national concern over ecology, the Bureau has new objectives centering around environmental protection and the public use of wildlife-oriented natural lands, said Ferguson.

Because of this, non-wildlife activities, such as high-powered boat use and water-skiing will be phased out, while fishing, camping and picnicking will be emphasized.

The target date for these new policies is now set at 1978, which will probably get pushed back, said Ferguson.

"We hope to really bring back fishing here, in case we have to completely go out of the boating and skiing lake use," explained Ferguson.

In addition to the permanent staff, two college students from eastern Oklahoma and southern Texas have been studying biological aspects and helping man the entrance gate at Buffalo Lake this summer. Ferguson also commended a worker from the National Youth Corps, who completed a six weeks program at the lake.

Ferguson said Buffalo Lake has a $1 user fee per vehicle or

During the hearing, Smith testified he purchased five patches from Stephens Wednesday afternoon. Three of the patches were decorated with a four-letter word, one was decorated with a picture and several words and the other was not mentioned in the charges.

Smith testified that "in my opinion they (the patches) are obscene."

"And, what do you base that opinion on?" asked Hampton.

"On my upbringing," Smith replied. "It's hard to explain, but I know it (obscenity) when I see it."

Showing Smith the patches he had purchased, Hampton asked the metro squad member to explain exactly what was obscene about them.

"The word itself," Smith said. Hampton asked Smith if he had ever heard the word used, for example, by members of the metro squad, and what his reaction is to the word.

"I guess I have," Smith said, and added that he would feel shame if the word were used in church or in front of women.

"Well, what if somebody on the metro squad uses it," Hampton asked.

"I overlook some things," Smith replied.

Hampton asked Smith if he had seen the musical "Hair" when it played in Amarillo, and

CHS Class Of 1957 Holds 15-Year Class Reunion

About 50 people attended the 15-year reunion of the 1957 graduating class of Canyon High School last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Brandon, 1102 Creekmore.

After a barbecue dinner catered by Sutphen's of Amarillo, the Canyon alumni voted to hold a 20-year reunion in 1977, probably coinciding with Canyon Days, during the Fourth of July weekend.

Mrs. Jack Metcalf said about 86 invitations for the reunion were sent.

Those in attendance were: Buddy and Billie Lowrey, who have three children and live in Hoover, where Lowrey ranches. Elston and Velma Burkham, who have one daughter and live between Canyon and Amarillo. Burkham sells new cars and has a body shop.

Dee Zane and Pat Pond, who have a one-year-old son and live in Amarillo, where Pond works for the Fire Department.

Burton and Christina (Sikes) Davis, who live in Canyon and have three children. Davis works for the Texas Highway Department.

Jimmy and Mary Ann (Irlbeck) Jannsen, who have four children and live west of Canyon, where Jannsen farms.

Meade and Fanita (Marshall) Humphries, who live in Canyon and have one son. Humphries is a geologist for Panhandle Sample Log Service in Amarillo.

Carroll and Lois McCarter, who live in Amarillo and have four children. McCarter is an employee of Borden's.

Cecilia (Waters) and Arlen Ruthart, who live in Amarillo, where Ruthart is an Internal Revenue agent, and Mrs. Ruthart works part-time at Shirley's Shop. They have three children.

July. This year is no exception. In May, Canyon citizens used 42 million gallons of water. In May 1971, residents used almost twice that amount—71.7 million gallons.

Water usage rose sharply in June when residents used 60.5 million gallons as compared to 77.5 million gallons used in June 1971.

In July of 1971, the city used 67.6 million gallons. Rogers estimates that July's total this year will be around 55 million gallons.

August is typically a low month. Last year during that month residents used only 43.6 million gallons.

Last year, the city pumped to residences and businesses 3.8 million gallons on the day of most water usage. So far this year, the largest day has seen residents use 3.5 million gallons.

Rogers said biggest single user of water in the city is West Texas State University.

kendall's figures. He said all WTSU property, which is valued at nearly $28 million, is exempt from taxes.

Buildings, land, and equipment owned by the school district are likewise exempt from taxes. School property totals $4.5 million.

City of Canyon water works, sewer plant, buildings and equipment are valued at a tax exempt $4.9 million.

Twenty-one churches in the school district, including 16 in Canyon are exempt from taxes and have a total value of $3.3 million. Dwelling places for ministers of those churches are valued at $196,810.

Buildings, equipment and land owned by Randall County are valued at $3.1 million, all of which is tax exempt.

Palo Duro Canyon State Park is valued at $703,300, and Buffalo Lake is valued at $823,600. Both are exempt from taxation.

The Texas Highway Department owns land and equipment and buildings in the district, but it is valued at just $250,000, all cerned with possible zoning problems should the area be annexed.

Louder said the houses in the Crow Addition already have water service, but have no sewer or sanitation service.

Commission head Clarence Eugene Thompson asked whether, if the acreage were annexed, the city would have to replace sewer and water lines which were inadequate.

Louder said the city would be required to replace inadequate utilities only on the city side of the meter.

The city manager said if the area is brought into the city, the city will assume the maintenance of water lines and streets and would provide sanitation service.

But, Louder said, the sewer set-up for that area could be complicated. Because the majority of the property proposed for annexation is below a hill, Louder said a lift station would probably be needed.

Thompson noted that if Interstate 27 is built to the east of Canyon, the city would probably find it desirable at some future date to annex the property.

"It's going to come sooner or later," Louder said.

In other business, the commission approved a final plat presented by Canyon developer Arch Hunsley for lots in Hunsley Hills.

Rains Cool County Area

Canyon residents cooled off Friday when low-hanging clouds moved over town and dumped sporadic moisture and lowered temperatures, which earlier in the week had soared into the upper 90s.

The rain Friday wasn't enough to register on the rain gauge at the Randall County Sheriff's office in downtown Canyon.

More rain was expected Saturday and Saturday night.

Highs Friday were in the middle and lower 80s in the county as a result of the showers and cloud cover.

They are expected to climb today into the middle 90s. More showers are expected this evening, but National Weather Service spokesman say rain will be only sporadic and spotty.

CARBARYL INSECTICIDE

helps keep borers out of corn

You can't keep profits up when Southwestern corn borers knock down your plants. Protect your crop with liquid SEVIMOL.

Since last winter was mild, billions of Southwestern corn borers are getting ready to rip into unprotected crops. Once the larvae tunnel into stalks or girdle them, your plants lodge and your profits slump.

That's why it pays to protect your crop with liquid SEVIMOL a proven mixture of molasses and SEVIN® carbaryl insecticide, recently labeled for use against Southwestern corn borer.

Start checking your crop now because maximum hatch occurs between mid-July and mid-August. If 50 to 75 percent of your corn shows egg masses or young larvae anywhere on plants, apply SEVIMOL. Then make a second application in 7 to 10 days.

SEVIMOL is used in low-volume applications. It gives you a heavy spray that falls fast and resists drifting. It spreads uniformly to leaf surfaces and "hangs in there" when other insecticides run off in rain or irrigation.

This year, knock out Southwestern corn borers before they knock over your crop. SEVIMOL carbaryl insecticide also controls corn earworm, fall armyworm and certain other corn insects.

Gasser Not Cold With Eskimoes Of Canadian Football League

(The following is the third of a series on former WTSU football players.)

Dave Gasser has always been a good football player, but until last spring he was a carefree-type of fellow.

When Gasser played at West Texas State University and teamed with the Woods twins—Burl and Earl—he helped form what could have been the best crew of linebackers to play at West Texas.

While the Woods boys were knocking them down on the left and center of the field, Gasser, playing behind defensive end Jimmy Campbell, knocked them down on the right side of the field.

Gasser, who came to West Texas from Bakersfield, Calif.,

Junior College, started 20 games for the Buffaloes. He got off to a good start in his first game as a Buffalo by recovering a fumble against Ohio University.

The Glassport, Pa., native is entering his sixth season with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League and is seeking his third consecutive all-league honor.

During Gasser's two years at West Texas and five years in Canada, the 6-1, 225-pounder has always been a competitive football player. Off the field he has been a good fellow. Since his graduation from West Texas he has operated a rent-a-car operation in California.

Gasser's business was always successful, but he has been seeking something else. He found it last spring when he sold his business and joined the Larkspur, Calif., Police Department.

"Dave was a nice guy, but wasn't the type of fellow to be a team leader, until this summer," said Edmonton coach Ray Jauch. "That has changed now. Dave came to camp with short hair, no face whiskers and a driving desire. That desire is also in the form of leadership and a willingness to do anything for the good of the team."

The 30-year-old Gasser, who is still single, plans to remain with police work during the off-season.

Fire Destroys Storage Barn

A storage barn owned by Mrs. R. B. Gist of Amarillo was destroyed by fire about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday 20 miles southeast of Canyon.

Seven units and 27 firemen of the Canyon Fire Department rushed to the scene to douse the flames, which were visible on the horizon for several miles.

The bar, which was adjacent to a house, had been vacant for years, according to Fire Capt. Joe Rice. The house was also vacant.

No cause for the fire has been determined.

Taxes Talked At Meetings

The Randall County tax assessor-collector returned at mid-week from meetings held in Amarillo by the Legislative Property Tax Study Committee and various subcommittees.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse said several recommendations were presented to the committee.

One recommendation was the establishment of central appraisal centers.

Mrs. Bruse said the committee recommended 25 be established in the state, but attendees at the meetings suggested such centers should be for individual counties. Under the proposal, all property would be appraised at its 100 per cent valuation and the various taxing authorities would apply their own rates and rates on the same valuation.

Recommendations were also made on the assessing and collecting of taxes on mobile homes.

It was also recommended that less exempt property be allowed and that personal automobiles be subject to taxation by all jurisdictions.

The committee made public statistics indicating that 75 per cent of all Texas counties are using data processing in tax collections.

Conway Kuykendall, city-school tax assessor-collector, also attended the sessions.

Brothers Follow Each Other In Canyon Record Books

Doug Harper came to Canyon from Borger several years ago and made a name for himself in the track record books at Canyon Junior High School.

But, his records didn't stand long because his younger brother, Dwight, followed right behind, erased the records of his brother and added his own name to the books.

Doug and Dwight, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Harper of north of Canyon, are trackmen, part of that separate breed which reaps none of the publicity or honors bestowed on members of team sports.

As trackmen, both boys were introduced to the cinders while still in elementary school in Borger. When they moved to Canyon, they had already competed and were well-founded in many of the basics.

And, they started setting records.

Doug, who will be a junior at Canyon High this fall, set a record for the 880-yard run in 8th grade with a try of 2:18. He followed it up as a 9th grader by breaking his own record with a run of 2:12.

Then Dwight came along and set a 7th grade record in the 880 with a time of 2:19. He also set the record that year for the broad jump of 16 feet 11 inches. Then in the 8th grade he broke his brother's record with an 880 run of 2:15 and a 440 run of 57 seconds flat.

As a 9th grader, Dwight again broke his brother's record with an 880 timed at 2:08.

For Doug, the cinders no longer hold the same magnetism. After having to sit out his sophomore season last year because of an injury he suffered during a rodeo accident, Doug says he's out of shape.

While he was waiting out the track season, Doug got interested in basketball and thinks he may try out for the team next year at CHS.

Meanwhile, his brother Dwight is running on country roads—to the tune of about four or five miles several times a week—in an effort to keep in shape for the coming track season.

"I'm going to stick with track and try to get a scholarship to go to college," Dwight says.

As a sophomore in high school this fall, he will have ample opportunity to prove himself.

Even though Doug is losing interest in track, he and his brother agree that to win in track is not like winning in football.

"If you win, you win all by yourself," Dwight said. "It takes your individual ability. It's a good feeling after you run—if you win."

"And," adds Doug, "you know you've done it on your own just by working."

Doug, right, and Dwight Harper illustrate the proper stance used when starting an 880-run. The two have pursued track throughout junior high school and although Doug is losing interest in the sport, Dwight hopes to gain a scholarship through his running.

New Sorority To Activate

A new social sorority plans to take its place at West Texas State University next fall, bringing to five the number of such Greek letter women's groups on campus.

Jean Roberts, dean of women, said the colonization of Kappa Delta marks the beginning of future sorority expansion plans at WTSU.

Founded at Longwood College, Farmville, Va., on Oct. 23, 1897, the sorority has grown to almost 75,000 members with 110 college chapters and 380 chartered alumnae organizations.

Kappa Delta was the first national Panhellenic Conference sorority to select the care and aid of cripple children as its National philanthropy.

Children's Hospital at Richmond, Va.

At the golden anniversary national convention in 1947 the sorority established a Kappa Delta Research Award in Orthopedy. The award, which totals $6,000 annually, is administered by the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

Kappa Delta has chapters in Texas at Lamar University, Sam Houston State University, University of Texas-El Paso, Pan American University, Southern Methodist University, North Texas State University and East Texas State University. There are 21 chartered alumnae organizations in the state.

The project was begun in 1921 and has for its principal philanthropic recipient the Crippled

Campers Leave Canyon

The invasion is over. The more than 1100 junior and senior high band students at West Texas State University for the annual West Texas Instrumental Music Camp the last two weeks have gone home to El Paso, Monahans, Dumas, Paducah, and even Canyon.

The camp activities culminated in final concerts Friday afternoon and evening in the Fine Arts Theatre.

About 18 awards were given out on the basis of performance, attitude, attendance, leadership, activity and camp service to bandsmen, choir and orchestra members, drum majors and twirlers.

Now, the summer session college students can stop wondering about the small freshmen running around campus and the art and drama teachers will not hear "all those tooting horns."

Mrs. Bruse In School

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, Randall County tax assessor-collector, recently attended a tax appraisal school sponsored by the Texas Association of Appraising Officers.

She attended the school as part of a personal program to receive a proficiency designation as a certified tax assessor.

She said there are currently 172 persons in Texas who hold that designation.

Disease Trial In Second Stage At Nance Ranch

The second group of cattle in a West Texas State University-Texas A&M Stocker Feeder Disease Trial will be weighed out at Nance Ranch Monday, according to Dr. Charles Smallwood, head of the WTSU School of Agriculture.

Dr. Smallwood said the animals being tested were brought in from Alexandria, La., and belong to the Central Cattle Company.

Dr. Smallwood reported that 200 were weighed out in the first herd and twice that number will be weighed out Monday.

Canyon Resident Receives Honor

A Canyon man is one of two salesmen from Texas recognized recently by the Upjohn Company for outstanding achievement in 1971.

Raymond L. Wylie was named to membership in the Academy of Upjohn Salesmen.

An associate academy winner in 1969, Wylie is an agricultural division salesman. He has been with Upjohn six years.

Dove Season Split Here

Recent action by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission split the mourning dove season, making a portion of it in September, and the remainder in January.

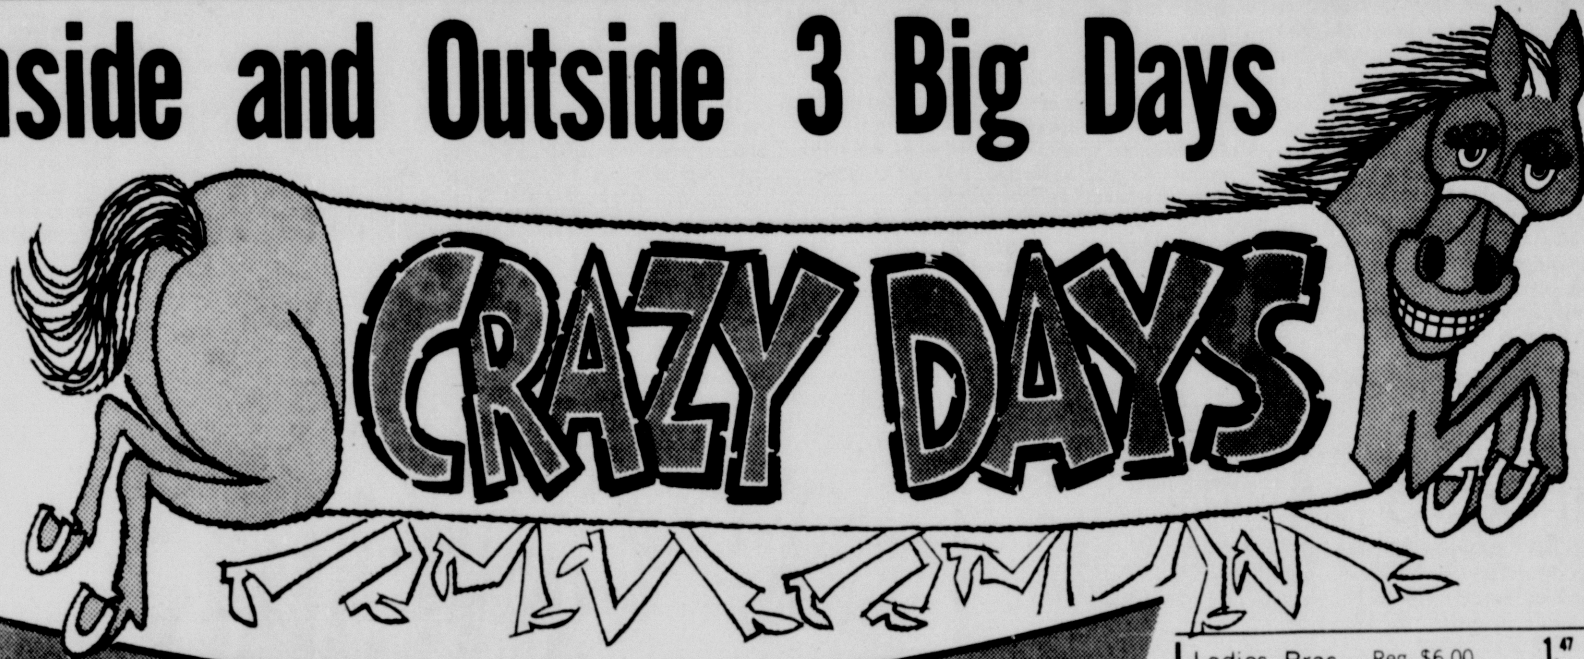

The North Zone season will be Sept. 1 through Oct. 14, 1972, and Jan. 6 - 21, 1973.

In the South Zone the season will be Sept. 23 through Nov. 5, 1972, and Jan. 6 through Jan. 21, 1973, except in counties having an open season for white-winged doves. There the open season for mourning doves ends Nov. 2 during the fall segment of the season.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists stress the split season is just an experiment to see if the late season will result in additional recreation without unduly increasing the overall harvest of doves. They will keep a close eye on the results to see if late dove hunting in Texas might affect the breeding populations of other states.

Hunters have long been interested in such a season because of the many doves present in Texas during the winter months, according to department officials.

Keith-Roanhaus Vows Are Repeated

Miss Marian Jeanine Keith became the bride of Bertrand Joseph Roanhaus in a double-ring ceremony taking place Friday evening in the Southlawn Baptist Church of Amarillo. The Rev. James Read performed the wedding rites.

Nuptials Will Be In September

Mr. and Mrs. Arden Beghtel, 2401 12th Ave., have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lou Ann, to Airman Kenneth Allan Angel of Clovis Air Force Base, N. M.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Angel of Rockwell Road, north of Canyon.

Nuptial vows will be read in a double-ring ceremony taking place at the First Baptist Church on September 3.

Miss Beghtel is a 1972 graduate of Canyon High School. Kenneth Angel graduated from Canyon High School in 1971.

Mr. and Mrs. James Keith, Rt. 2 near Canyon.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Roanhaus, of Port Hueneme, Calif.

The altar area was centered with a fifteen-branch candelabrum, flanked by two seven-branch candelabra. A large basket of gladioli with white daisies was placed at the front, and the mothers' pews were decorated with daisy mums.

Mrs. James Read played organ music before the ceremony. Miss Karen Pettit sang "More" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Miss Kaysee Martin on the piano.

The maid of honor was Miss Beverly Kay Keith, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Anne Keith, sister of the bride also; Miss Theresa Mary Roanhaus, sister of the groom; and Miss Sharon Annette Matlock. They all wore floor-length gowns of yellow crepe styled in princess A-line, accented with daisy medallion trim. Their white, wide-brimmed hats were banded with yellow ribbon, and they carried daisy nosegays with ribbon streamers. Miss Delores Hawthorne registered guests.

The bride's mother chose a blue doubleknit dress accented with white accessories.

Steven Whitaker of Hereford was the best man. Groomsmen were Mike Roanhaus and Eric Roanhaus, brothers of the bridegroom. Ushers were Jerry Mariner and Greg Whitaker of Indiana.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal bridal gown of white silk organza over satin featuring long puffed sleeves caught in wide cuffs, a bertha collar with wedding-band neckline, ruffled hemline and detachable train. Bands of Venice lace enhanced the collar, cuffs, and hemline. Wide inserts of Venice lace were also used on bodice and at waistline. Her chapel veil of layered illusion fell from a headpiece ornamented with Venice lace medallions. She carried a cascade of white baby roses accented with yellow baby roses, baby's breath, and long white ribbon streamers.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the reception hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with white cloth accented with yellow net and yellow bows. The centerpiece was of yellow daisies. Miss Cindy Kuhlman and Miss Linda Taylor of Perryton served the traditional three-tiered wedding cake, punch and coffee.

The couple left for a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wearing a two-piece orange knit dress accented with white accessories. After July 31, they will be at home at 107 28th St., No. 14, Chateau Apts.

The bride is a graduate of Canyon High School and is presently employed by Southwestern Investment Co. of Amarillo.

mony at the Baptist Student Center. The bride's table, bearing the traditional tiered wedding cake and punchbowl, was centered with the memory candle surrounded by flowers in the bride's colors of blue and brown. Chocolate cake was served at the groom's table, along with punch.
